

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A printing apparatus has: a storing unit which stores print data; a 5 print unit which prints the print data onto a medium; a reply unit which returns a list regarding the print data stored in the storing unit to a host in response to an inquiry received from the host; and a print instructing unit which allows the print unit to print the print data stored in the storing unit in response to a print instruction from the host. A necessary print job can be 10 easily selected from a plurality of print jobs. Only the print data of the selected print job can be printed.
